

Rearm the Canadian Forces

Only a Common-Sense Conservative government will stand with our troops and restore the trust of our allies that NDP-Liberal Government has lost.

We will make real and credible efforts to work towards meeting our NATO spending commitments.

We are committed to restoring our proud military, and will ensure that they have the equipment and resources they need to do their job to protect Canada and defend our freedoms.

Canada’s current defense spending falls short of the NATO spending target, leaving our military underfunded and lacking the modern equipment necessary to address both domestic and international challenges.

A Conservative government will prioritize rearming the Canadian Armed Forces by investing in new technologies, upgrading infrastructure, and ensuring our soldiers, sailors and air personnel have the resources they need to succeed.

By aspiring to meet the NATO target, the Conservative Party will strengthen Canada’s role within the alliance, uphold our international commitments, and better support our military in their vital missions.

This commitment will enhance Canada’s ability to protect its interests at home and abroad, ensuring that we remain a credible and reliable partner in the defense of democracy and freedom around the world.

Dear Friends,

With the solemn occasion of Remembrance Day on our mind, it is through tradition that many of us gather to honour the brave men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice in defense of our freedoms. Yet for many of us in Saskatoon West, Remembrance Day is much more than rote and ritual; it is time to reflect on the deep sense of duty and service that runs through our community. It's a day to recognize the courage of those who have served in uniform and remember their contributions that have shaped the country we are proud to call home.

As your Member of Parliament, I am reminded of the strong ties Saskatoon West has to Canada's proud military history. Whether through the service of our veterans or the ongoing contributions of our armed forces, the values of sacrifice, loyalty, and patriotism remain deeply rooted in our community. Remembrance Day reminds us not only to remember the fallen, but also to support those who continue to serve.

The freedoms we enjoy today have come at a high cost. The sacrifices of those who fought in the trenches of Vimy Ridge, stormed the beaches of Normandy, and those who most recently shed their blood in Afghanistan fighting terrorism. Their courage and commitment to defending the values of democracy, justice, and liberty are a source of inspiration to us all.

As we gather in remembrance of our veterans, let us also commit to ensuring that the memory of these sacrifices endures. We owe it to those who fought for our freedom to teach future generations about the importance of service and the value of standing up for what is right. Those of us who honour this legacy of freedom must pledge to protect the freedoms won by those who have sacrificed for us.
